Wednesday. 19 Junij. hora. 2. a meridie

Δ I made a prayer to god: and there appeared one hauing two garments in his hands. He answered

— A good prayer, with a Quaintie myndes.

Δ. God make my myndes stable: and to be assured, with the faithfull trust Heuen, free of all possible mutabilitie.

E K. One of the two garments is quite white: the other is Sparkled, of diuerse Colours: the Lay of E K in Golden before him. He Layeth also a Sparkled cap Golden before him at his feet. He saith no Trap on thy Head God: His heare is long and yellow: but his face cannot be seene: at the least it was turned Downeward for E K vehemently: though his Garments changed his place.

— your shall see my face — So it is done.

E K. Then he putteth on his pyed coat, and pyed cap.
He casteth the one side of his golden Ouer his shoulder, and he dawnceth and sayth

— Here is a good, let vs be merry — E K. he daunceth still.

— There is a Golden, let vs be merry — for — Does this Doctrine teach you, to know God — to be skylfull in the Heauens?

— Note it.

E K. Then he putteth of his Cloathes again: Then he kneeleth

Nal— You haue 49 Tables. In those tables are contayned the Mysteries and holy Dayes of the Angels: Dyuided, and in state of Hyerarchie and Order in confusion: Which forceth them, and Loketh into the Centre of the Erth: the very Language and Speche of Children and Innocents, such, as magnify the name of God, and are pure.
Where in, the Apostly Vnderstode the diffuse Sciences of the world, imperfect, for many transgression
These Tables are to be Written, Not by man, but by the finger of God which is Mother to Vertue. [Δ—Madm said her mother would write the Rest] Wherein, the Whole World, (to this, incredible) all Creatures, and in all kindes, are numbred, in being, and multitude.
The Measure and proportion of that Substance, which is Transitorie, and shall Vanysh.
These things and Mysteries are your gift, and portion, Sealed: as well by your own Knowledge, as the fruite of your Generation;
The Knowledg of Gods Creatures.

But, Lo, they sayd the Seruant, my Master forgat and hath commaunded me Diuers: and I haue prepared and he came not: and he sayth vnto me the Third tyme Arrise, go, and I will meet the:
Thou shalt finde me there.
But he will, there also deceyue me.
And he went before: And behold his Master
But immediately, after that the Seruants Message
The Father of the Householde came; and the his Seruant was not there.
And he sent for him, and commaunded him to be and to be brought vnto vnkend.
But the Seruant sayde: Deare [illegible]
But the Master answered, and [illegible]

Arrise vp, and fynde me one that is FAITHFVL, with OBEDIENCE
Then he stretched out his hand, and he sayd vnto his Seruant
Hold, take thy reward: For from me, thou art Banished
How, say you, was this Justice, that he did vnto his Seruant?
Δ — Ô Lorde, we appeale to thy Mercyes:
and we acknowledge thy Judgments, all ways,
to be most just, and true, &c.
Mad — The Ark of the Lord, was the Covenant of OBEDIENCE
Happy are those, that enter.
E K — There springeth a thing before her, like a reede
